SCHOONER CAPTAIN IS SOON REWARDED

With Six Men He Rescued Crew of 42 and 10 Passengers—Carnegie Hero Commission Takes Prompt Action.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 1.—Capt. Mark Casto of the fishing schooner Alberta and his crew of six men, who on Jan. 14, in a fierce gale, rescued the crew of 42 and 10 passengers from the Clyde liner Cherokee, which ran aground on Brigantine Shoals near Atlantic City, N. J., while on the way from San Domingo to New York, were yesterday made beneficiaries of the Carnegie hero fund. Besides medals to the captain and crew, a sum aggregating $9,500 is awarded.

This is the quickest action taken by the Carnegie hero fund commission since its inception.

Captain Casto, besides receiving a gold medal, is awarded $1,500, so much of it as may be necessary to be used for the purpose of liquidating the mortgage on his property at Pleasantville, New York. Five thousand dollars is to be set aside as a special fund, from which the executive committee shall pay such amounts as they approve from time to time for the education of Mark Jacobs Casto, the nine years old son of Captain Casto.

The crew, who are Nels Gregersen, Frederick Roush, Marcus Nelson, Jon M. Shute, Axel Holm and Leids J. Johnson, besides receiving a silver medal each, are each awarded $500, such sum to be placed of the credit of each, as a savings fund, in trust, for two years from the date of award, the income to be paid semi-annually to the beneficiary until the expiration of the trust, and then the principal to be paid in full.

A further resolution was passed expressing high appreciation of the bravery and devotion to duty shown in connection with the wreck of the Cherokee on Jan. 12, 13 and 14, 1906, by the members of the United States life saving crews of North and South Brigantine stations.

MADDENED BULL LOOSE.

Stirred Up Wakefield, Mass., to a High Pitch of Terror.

Wakefield, Mass., Feb. 1.—A maddened bull, which escaped from a slaughter house yesterday, endangered the lives of several persons, delayed an express train and cleared Wakefield streets of pedestrians for a time. The police and half a hundred men and boys armed with guns, pistols and revolvers, pursued the infuriated animal for miles, and discharged their weapons at frequent intervals, but it was not until the bull fled to Melrose Highlands that its career was ended.

When the bull made its appearance, puffing and bellowing in the streets here, women shrieked and fled to the nearest buildings, men and children also hastened for shelter. The bull dashed down Main street. At one point, Selectman George W. Abbott was walking along unaware of the brute's approach behind him. Several persons in buildings warned the selectman just in time, and he found refuge in a back yard.

The bull's attention was diverted on the appearance of Frank E. Ford, Ford saw the beast charging down upon him, and boarded a moving electric car, which came along just then.

The bull did not attack the car, but transferred his hostility to Gardiner Campbell, who was riding a bicycle. Campbell fled and was forced to run down the Boston and Maine railroad tracks. An express train was approaching, but when the engineer saw the chase he brought his train nearly to a standstill, in order to avoid an accident. Campbell succeeded in evading his pursuer.

The bull then headed for Greenwood, followed at a safe distance by about fifty persons armed with guns, revolvers and other weapons. A running fire was kept up, but the shots failed to bring the bull down. The chase was continued until the bull got to Melrose Highlands, where it was slain by Willis Gould of Greenwood. Gould fired sixty shots before the life was extinct.

The bull escaped from the slaughter house at Lynnfield. In making its escape the animal attacked a young man employed by William Gould. The helper was thrown down and bruised, but was not injured otherwise.

Paddock Overcoats!

The Paddock Overcoat is the swellest garment made in the Overcoat line. It is distinctly a high-toned Coat. It's a hard garment to make, and to look right must be worked out by the hands of experts. Our Paddocks are hand-tailored from the finest imported and domestic materials, and made by the best tailors in the trade. We invite the attention of fashionable dressers to our line of Paddock Overcoats. A little more expensive than the regular Overcoat, to be sure, but they are worth all we ask for them—$20.00, $22.00 to $25.00. We never heard of a smart dresser who would part with his Paddock at any price, provided he had the correct kind, and that means our kind.

RELIEF FOR TOURAINE.

Liquor Law Legislative Committee Takes Favorable Action.

Boston, Feb. 1.—Favorable action has been taken by the legislative committee on liquor law on a bill which will permit the Hotel Touraine of this city and other hotels situated just within the prohibited school house limit, to sell liquor.

The bill provides that hotels situated so close to the restricted district that a portion of the building is over the line may sell liquor and maintain an enclosed bar, providing that the bar is without the limit. The law passed about fifteen years ago prohibited the granting of a license to hotels and bar rooms within 400 feet of a school house on the same street.

LAID IT TO RUM.

CHECK THE COLD

You cannot figure on the results of a cold if it's let run its course. But you can figure on results if you take Our Cold Cure at the start—your cold will depart quickly.

We don't understand why anybody would let a cold develop into serious, perhaps fatal disease, when it can be so easily eliminated from the system. Keep a package of Our Cold Cure on hand. You'll not suffer the lung congestion, coughs and other troubles that result from colds, as you have in past winters. We warrant it. Price, 25c.
